PLUMBING,

Thousand Plurality - The Democrats Secures the Legislature by a Majority of Eight on Joint Ballet-Other States

GOVERNOR J. E. CAMPBELL. COLUMBUS, Nov. 7.—The Democrats of. Ohio now resiize that they won a bigger victory Tuesday than they thought they had. Chairman Neal, of the State Democratic Executive committee, claims the election of the entire Democratic ticket by safe majorities. In the collection of the first returns only the vote on the head of the ticket was considered, and as it was thought that Foraker's defeat was due to the scratching of his name the election of any other Democrat was hardly looked for by even the Democrats themselves, Chairman, Neai's private information shows that the rest of the Democratic state ticket has followed the head of the ticket, and he says he is sure that the whole has beet elected by pluralities ranging from 5.000 to 8,000. He piaces Campbells plurulity at 10,000.

'You may say,' said he, 'that this committee has positive knowledge that nineteen Democrats have been elected to the state senate and seventeen Republicans, while sixty Democrats have been elected to the house and lifty-four Republicans, so that we have a majority in the general assembly of 8 on joint ballot, giving us the United States sen-

Governor Foraker declined to say anything concerning his defeat. He was seen by the United Press reporter immediately after he had sent a tele-gram of congratulation to Mr. Camp-bell, and seemed very happy in his de-feat, although declining to talk about it.

Chairman Conger, of the Republican executive committee, said he was aston-ished at the result, and had nothing to say in explanation. It was a surprise

Baprene Court Clerk Hester thinks in is saved from the wrock, as he ran ahead of his ticket in Hamilton county. It now seems certain that Campbell's plurality will run over 8,0-0, and may reach 12,000. Still the surprises of the election have been so many and great that Col. Neal s estimate is now anquie-ced in by itepublicans without

Col. Conger conceded Campbeil's election at about moon. It was a struggle for him to do so, for all night long there had been anxious figuring on the pitiless returns, and with almost pathetic chaging to the just shred of hope. Republicans sought for hours to word off the certainty of defeat by buoying each other up with the admonition to walt for the rural countles and the to walt for the rural counties and the Western Reserve. But the promised rescue never came Long before daylight the experts had acknowledged defeat, but it was thought right that the public acknowledgment of the disaster should be left to the charman of the committee to make. (Iovernor Foraker himself had no helief in his election after 1) o'clock 'i'uesday night.

As soon as the chairman of the Republican state committee had conceiled Campbell's election (fovernor i'oraker sont the following telegram to his successor-aleat:

To the full extent that a defeated candidate can do so with propriety, allow me to offer my congratulations, and assure you it will give me pleasure to extend you coursely I can show you in connection with your juaguration and the commencement of your administration. J. B. Paraker.

Mr. Campbell wired the following polite reply from Hamilton:

Rong J. B. Fernker, Havernor of Ohio: Permit me to thank you must beautily for cordist telegram just received. I accept with high approciation your tender of courtestes ment the gorpolon referred to.

Campbell's plurality in Hamilton county is 7.444. Schunider and Dunn are the only successful Republican can-illdate.

Onana, Neb. Nov. 7. -Returns from this state are still very incomplete, but there is no doubt whatever that the Republicans have elected Laws to congress in the Second district by from 2,000 to 3,000 majority, and that the Republican candidate for supreme judge and the regents of the university have from 20,000 to 25,000. course sorry that the result is as it is, he is not surprised. The result in Iowa he attributes to the temperance issue and to the unpopularity of one of the candidates with the farmers. He does not take the responsibility for Mahone's candidacy in Virginia, but holds that whatever assistance and support he whatever assistance and support he gave Mahone was not more than he would have given any nominee of the party. Mahone was in no sense personally his candidate.

He attributes the result in Ohio to the opposition of the voters on general the opposition of the vôters on general principles to the election of any man to an office for a third term. He regards it a protest against a third term for Foraker and against the idea in general of a third term. He does not feel that the voters were passing a verdiet upon the National administration.

Rejoicing in Alabama.

BIHMINGHAM, Aia., Nov. 7.—The city was illuminated with bonfires last night and fireworks were pientiful, in honor of the Democratic guins and victories. The shouting was chiefly for Campbell, as there was great interest taken in the Onlo election.

PETERSULIG, Va., Nov. 7.—E. A. Goodwyn. Jr., a Democratic judge, of election for the Second ward precinct was arrested yesterday on a warrant aworn out by J. M. Birdsong, a Republican judge of election for the same precinct, charging him with stuffing the ballot box. Goodwyn was brought before the mayor, but at the request of F. R. Lassiter, counsel for Geodwyn, a continuance was had.

MAHONE, AT HOME.

Farther Particulars of the Shooting of Herbert P. Harrison.

Petenseurg, Va., Nov. 7.—The excitement growing out of the shooting of Harrison has very much subsided. Gen. Manone spent the day quietly at home with his son and private secretary, examining and tabulating election returns. Many friends called to express regret at his defeat and at the unhappy circumstances attending the close of the day's proceedings. Harrison, the wounded man, is resting comfortably. No anxiety exists as to his condition. Gen. Mahone's neighbors are all Democrats, and though they exchange no ocrats, and though they exchange no civilities with him still they made no outward sign of the joy they feel at his defeat. That quarter of the city was devoid of illuminations and was cemarka-bly tranquil throughout the day.

Romaine, who swore out the warrant charging Mahone with shooting Harrison, said: "It was a harmless jubliation of young gentiemen. There were no roughs present nor any drunken men. The order was given that no fireworks were to be thrown into the general's yard or against his house. This order I have every reason to believe was obeyed, but notwithstanding the fact that we were out in the street we were fired on from Gen. Mahone's toward the general that I did. I still think Gen. Mahone shot Harrison. The wound was made by a rifle hall, and the general stood in his yard, with a ride in his hand.

Gen. Malione still wiheres to his statement made before the mayor. In his hearing before the mayor Gen. Malione stated that his shotgan was not loaded. He tried to load it when the crowd appeared, but the cartridges were too bly for the barral.

R. C. Campboll testified that he was by Gen. Mahone's side from the mo-ment he faced the growd until he reached the mayor so nes, and that the general did not fire a shot.

A NEW PRIMA DONNA.

A Former Citizen of Mason County Gaining Fame as a Singer.

The New York World, of November 4th, says: "Miss Juch witt, in graceful, artistic sisterhood, introduce to her andience on Wednesday night at Harlem an American singer. On that evening Miss Juch will be heard for the first time_in New York as Mignon, and Miss Marie Decca will appear for the first time in English opera before an American audience as Felina. The new comer is the daughter of Judge Saunders Johnson, formerly of Ohio, but of recent years a resident of Washington. Her grandfather was the late General Hamer, a distinguished Ohio statesman and an officer in the Mexican war. She is a slender blonde; pretty, frank, cordial and unaffected; is highly educated and accomplished, and has none of the airs and graces and affectations which are supposed to attach to the conventional prima donna.

To a World reporter who interviewed her at the St. James Miss Decca said that she went to Paris in 1882, where she studied under Mme. Marchesi for three years, and one year more under Mastre Gulio Alary, with whom she passed her entire repertoire."

In explaining how she came by the name of Decca, Miss Johnson said: When I entered the music room of my Philadelphia singing master one morning, he said: 'I have written a song for you,' handing me the manuscript. 'Will you try it over?' 'Why,' I exclaimed, 'the first five notes spell a name-D E C C A. ber it, and use it when you want a nomde-theatre.' "Miss Decca is accompanied by her aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, a clever and charming woman, the author of the Life of Washington' and other works. Between authoress and singer there exists great affection and a charming comraderie."

Miss Johnson resided years ago at Germantown where she is remembered as a bright and lovely girl. She is a first cousin of Mrs. L. H. Long, of this county, and also a distant relative of Mr. Long. Her fondness for music was noticed when she was but a child. Mr. Long says she used to open her mouth and tell her parents "there is a fortune there." Her words have proven prophetic.

THAT BLOODY TRUNK AGAIN.

It is Identified by the Man Wh oFound It. Kunze Connected With the Conspiracy for the First Time in Court-Testimony of the Witnesses.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7. - The hearing of the Cronin trial was resumed Wednesday morning with every one in better humor after a day's rest. The crowd was larger than on any day of the trial so far.

R. T. Stanton, a printer of Lake View testified to having printed a lot of cards fer O'Sullivan the latter part of April. The cards were delivered to O'Sullivan by a boy in witness' employ May 2. Witness identified the card handed to Dr. Cronin by the assassin's messenger as being exactly like those

On cross-examination the defense tried to show that it was possible for other persons beside O'Sullivan to have gotten hold of some of these cards.

Ex-Capt. Villiers was then recalled to resume the tracing of the trunk, and to resume the tracing of the trunk, and with the aid of a map showed the territory between O'Sullivan's house, the Carlson cottage, catch basin and the ditch where the trunk was found. Mr. Forrest cross-examined him with the idea of getting an admission that the men in the wagon might have driven down to the lake shore on Fifty-ninth street had they been so inclined, and thus have obviated the roundabout course they had taken. The captain, however, held that the sand in the road was too deep to admit of the trip being was too deep to admit of the trip being taken in that way. The cross-examination on trivial points was continued at length with the aid of the map, the details brought out being technical and uninteresting.

The noxt three witnesses, Herman Thoel, Herman Pausli and Carl Knop, testified to finding the bloody trunk on the morning of May 5 (Sunday) while out on a hunting trip. The trunk was brought into the court room and identified by the three men. fled by the three men.

Officer Job Phillips, of Lake View, testified to having been detailed by Capt. Villiers, on May 5, to go with Officers Wing and Malia to a point on the Evanstou road in a patrol wagon and bring the bloody trunk to the Lake View police station. The officers found in the trunk some cotton batting saturated with blood and water and some human hair. The witness identified the trunk in the court room as the same one that he had found on the morning in question. The witness also assisted in taking Cronin's body out of the catch basin; aud arrested O'Snllivan, one of the defendants.

Capt. Wing was recalled and gave a description of the trunk's contents when he first saw it. One end of the key to the trunk was covered with yellow paint similar to that daubed on the floor of the Carlson cottage. The witness visited the Carlson cottage a day or two after the body was found, and corroborated the testimony of the witness as to the condition of the room, the broken chair, etc. The witness took up some of the blood-stained : thooring in the Carlson cottage and removed it to the Lake View police station, from where it was subsequently taken to the Chicago avenne station. Capt. Schueller, the witness, testifled also that he removed pieces of the blood-stained floor-officer Jacob Spengler, of Lake View, testified to having found some cotton; batting in the catch basin the day after the body was taken out and Officer George Malia corroborated the evidence given by Officen Phillips.

Officer George Huatt, of the Chiengo avenue station, was detailed to work on the ease and on May 23, in company with Officer Soreli, made a thorough investigation of the Carlson cottage and its contents. He testified at length as to the condition of the farniture, the yellow paint on the floor and foot prints in it, and the finding by Officer Sorch of the key to the trank in which Cronin's body was hauled to the catch

The next and last witness was William Ir James, a youth of 16 years, and he was the first to connect Kunza, the young German, with the couspiracy. The boy is at present learning the art of court steinography in his father's law office. About the time the conspiracy to remove Dr. Cromin was being hatched the senior James's office was located ou the sixth floor of the Chicago opera house building, directly across the street from 117 South Clark street, where the furniture bought at Revells' was placed. The boy testified that one day in the latter part of February or the beginning of March he saw a man at the window of the Clark street flat. It was late in the day, and he took particular notice of the man because he had on notice of the man because he had on only an undershirt and drawers and was sitting close up to the window washing his feet. On being asked to point out the man in the court room the boy, without hesitation, said Kuuze was the same man. The boy saw many others in the rooms when leoking out of the windows of his father's office, but Kunze was the only one be could possibly identify. A searching cross-examination failed to shake the boy's testimony in the least, and court adjourned.

Testimony of a Number of Annual Report of the Chief Signal Office.

A CRIPPLED DEPARTMENT.

Lack of Facilities in Carrying Out the Objects of the Bureau-Recommendations to Congress-In Need of More

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Gen. A. W. Greely, chief signal officer of the army, has made his annual report to the secretary of war. He complains of lack of facilities for using or caring for the field telegraph trains or other signal equipments under his charge, for the practical training and drilling of the officers and enlisted men of the corps, and of the need of liberal appropriations.

He calls attention to the necessity of improvement and change in current methods of signal instruction and practice. The records show that less than one efficer out of nine of the line of the army has received instruction in sig-nalling during the year. These evils are especially pronounced in view of the introduction of the telephene and other instruments of modern invention which are applicable to signaling purposes. The issue of weather forecasts and storm warnings has been uninter-rupted through the year. Applications for special predictions have been so numerously the forecast official cannot furnish them regularly.

The chief signal officer recommends that the force of enlisted men in the service be reduced from 470 to 200. The cold wave, predictions, he says, have proved successful in many ways, and this branch of the service has improved greatly since its inauguration. The weather crop bulletin has met with great favor. Gen. Greely calls attention to the fast that two graud prizes were awarded the service for the display at the Paris exposition.

WASHINGTON, Nov. ?.—The coast survey steamer Ranger has been ordered to proceed from Mare Island to San Bartholomew bay, Lower California, and resume the survey on that coast at the point where it was discontiuned last ason. She will gradually proceed southward.

The navy department has directed that the Galena be docked at New York to ascertain what damage she sustained from grounding recently, while entering New York harbor.

A naval court martial will couvene at the Bostou navy yard on Nov. 8 for the trial of enlisted persons. The court will consist of Capt. Matthews, Lioutenant Commander Morgan, Lieut. Symonds, Lieut. Winter, Ensign Hulse, with Lient. Patch as judge advocate.

The board of naval officers appointed by Secretary Tracy some time ago, to examine the plans upon which the cruiser Texas is being constructed at Norfolk navy yard, has completed its work. It is believed at the department that their report will confirm the oalention and repair, which shows that the Texas, if constructed according to the present design, will sink so far in the water as to be practically worthless.

Consultation With Postmailers. Washington, Nov. 7.—Twenty of the postmasters from the principal post-offices in the country have been summoned to Washington by Postmaster General Wanamaker for the purpose of consultation. The conference began yesterday at the postolioe department, Postmaster Goueral Wauamaker him-self presiding. The object of the con-ference, like those recently held here by the postoffice inspectors and railway. mail superintendents, is to interchange ideas for the betterment of the postal service throughout the country, and to enable the postmaster general by per-sonal contact with the postmasters to learn of the needs of the service, and to supply deticiencies where possible. The conference will continue several days. Among the promineut postmasters here are those from New York, Boston, Chicago, New Orleans, Washington, Nashville, Buffalo, Charleston and Philadel-
